And if we all lived
together?

Old friends, new housemates

Et si on vivait tous ensemble ?

Annie (Geraldine Chaplin), Jean (Guy Bedos), Claude (Claude Rich), Albert (Pierre Richard), and Jeanne (Jane Fonda) have been friends for 40 years. So when memories let them down heart rates quicken and their families plot their futures in retirement homes they decide to rebel and all live together. To help make their lives a little easier they hire a young student (Daniel Brühl), who was initially a quiet observer but is soon drawn in to the group dynamic.

Their communal lifestyle provides plenty of surprises, challenges and adventure but soon stirs up memories and hidden secrets from years gone by. In order to find happiness together in their golden years the five friends must come to terms with their past, their mistakes, and their limitations....

This charming and moving story proves that youthful exuberance and happiness can be found at any age, with little creative thinking.
